

30 Second Elevator Pitch

My name is Jonathan Brown and I recently graduated from Southern Illinois University Edwardsville with a degree in applied communications studies with a focus in public relations. One of my greatest passions is providing my sociological opinion to companies so they can better relate to the public. What's unique about what I do is that I worked with the Missouri Botanical Gardens on a lesson plan for 9-12 grades. This lesson plan is meant to teach students about the gardens and about its founder. I'm eager to learn about this company and how I can apply my skills to this organization. I would love to learn more about your role in the company. Would you like to meet over coffee in the near future?
