Reflection#4

With so many different groups in the world, when making a video you must have an audience. An audience doesn't have to be for a specific group of people, but it could depend on the certain topic. The platform I am choosing to use is TikTok. It is one of the most common apps used day to day for not only entertainment but information on certain topics. The topic I was writing about was how immigrant children rise to the top. I feel this audience can relate to a lot of people from different struggles. Some of those people can be Black, White, Hispanic, etc.

With this specific audience I feel it can connect to the youth and adults, specifically the young men and men of this generation. A lot of Americans tend to have views on immigrants and how they move. They judge them before they even get a chance to know them or who they are. Like a lot of families in the United States everyone wants something better for their family. The American dream isn't just a saying, but it has to potential to make impacts on generations. They all come for different reasons but have the same goals. People know the opportunity that we have in the United States and what change that could be made over the next decade. Moving around or having little to nothing is not easy, especially when you watch your family struggle. Being in a lower class, you naturally want to have better opportunities to provide for those in need. As the saying goes, "When you hit rock bottom, the only way to go is up."

The screenshot shows a social media search interface for the query "work opportunities". The search bar at the top contains the text "work opportunities" with a back arrow on the left and a close button on the right. Below the search bar are navigation tabs: "Top", "Videos", "Users", "Sounds", "Shop", and "LIVE". The "Top" tab is selected and underlined. Two video thumbnails are displayed in a grid. The first video shows a man in a white shirt and tie with his hands raised, and text overlay that reads "TO GET A WORK PERMIT,". The second video shows a woman with text overlays: "FedEx is hiring !!", "$25/hr. Work from home. No degree or experience needed. Role is for data entry position. Training and equipment provided. Monday to Friday 8 AM to 3 PM.", and "More work from home jobs - see B!0". Below the thumbnails are two posts. The first post is for the hashtag "#WorkOpportunities" with the text "Finding Employment W..." and a profile picture of a man, with 27.5K likes. The second post is for the text "Follow us for more remote job oppo..." with a profile picture of a woman, with 5491 likes.
